

Complaint Filed Against Electrical Union

Nine Free Nations Agree To Form Western European Union

Armed Reich Included In Anti-Red Bloc

PARIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Nine anti-Communist allies of the Western world reached a historic agreement tonight on formation of the Western European Union. It will include the arms and men of an all but fully sovereign West Germany.

Foreign ministers of the nine nations virtually completed the agreements here today, including the forging of tight controls over Germany's military potential for the rest of this century.

Details were being hammered out so that each government may soon ask for ratification by their parliaments of treaties that will link West Germany to NATO.

Agreement to bring the Bonn republic into the proposed seven-nation Western European Union—adding West Germany and Italy to the already organized Benelux organization—followed quickly after the American, British, French and West-German ministers agreed on terms to end the nearly 10-year occupation of Germany and restore, with a few exceptions, complete sovereignty to that part of the divided nation. That agreement was reached by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

France—three invaded by Germany and two of those times in this century—won the approval of her partners for a far-reaching pattern of control which will bar the Germans from raising unlimited forces or making atomic weapons without French consent until 1968.

The other members of the Western European Union—better known as the Brussels Alliance of 1948—are Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The Brussels Alliance has been reshaped to replace the defunct European Defense Community. Britain's involvement makes it stronger than EDC, since the Churchill government has promised to keep four divisions and a tactical air force on the European continent for the remaining 44 years of the 50-year pact.

The agreements pave the way for West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member of the alliance against Communism that girds most of the northern hemisphere. The NATO Council meets tomorrow to take that decision.

One major issue alone remains to be settled within the next 48 hours before the achievement of these goals can be considered assured.

It concerns the future status of the Saar—1,000 square miles of rich coal and steel producing territory which both the Germans and French want to control.

Experts of the two countries are inching toward agreement—an agreement that would place the Saarland under the control of the seven West European Union nations until a final German peace settlement. In the meantime German political parties would get the right—now denied to them—to contest elections.

FHA Ousts 11 Employees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration, which has been stripped of more than a dozen top officials in a months-long shakeup, today announced the suspension of 11 lower level employees from its headquarters staff.

The announcement said charges of "improper activities" against them were being investigated, but neither their names nor the kind of activities were divulged. The Washington Evening Star said it was reported most of the charges involved gambling.

The housing agency has been under congressional and federal grand jury investigation in connection with alleged housing irregularities dating over a period of about 10 years. In a separate announcement, the housing agency said G. A. Baumann, director of personnel, had resigned because of ill health.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Big Three Western powers and West Germany, meeting in Paris, agreed to restore Germany's sovereignty as the first step toward rearming her under a strong European security system. They are (l. to r.) Premier Mendes-France, of France; Dr. Konrad Adenauer, West German chancellor; Anthony Eden, British secretary for foreign affairs, and U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Banker Renews Criticism Of Arkansas Power Co. In Attack On Dixon-Yates Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Arkansas banker Arthur E. McLean today termed the Arkansas Power & Light Co. a "most corrupt and ruthless" arm of the controversial Dixon-Yates Public Utility group.

McLean, long-time critic of Arkansas Power, was testifying under oath before the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee which is exploring in public hearings the hotly disputed private power contract.

President Eisenhower has ordered negotiated with the Dixon-Yates companies.

One of these is Middle South Utilities, Inc., headed by Edgar H. Dixon, and the parent company of Arkansas Power. The other group is the Southern Co., headed by E. A. Yates.

Under the proposed contract the Dixon-Yates group would build a generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed private power into the public power lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The plan is a major issue in some areas in the current congressional election campaign.

McLean, 62, president of the Commercial National Bank of Little Rock, Ark., told the subcommittee he knew nothing about the Dixon-Yates contract but that the government would be wise to use extreme caution in entering into any contract with a parent of Arkansas Power.

He said "a national scandal" could be the price of carelessness.

McLean described himself as an admirer of President Eisenhower. He said one reason for giving his testimony is a desire to keep "his (Eisenhower's) administration from becoming involved in any national scandal."

The rally is scheduled to start promptly at 8 p. m. Committee men and women of the county have been contacted and they are expected to bring delegations from all sections of Monroe County to the rally, Altomose said.

Politics-Free School Pledged

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, promised tonight to "divorce politics from the operation of the public school system" if elected governor.

"There will be no tampering with the teachers' retirement system in Pennsylvania," Leader said in a prepared campaign speech here.

The Democratic nominee said he is "reliably informed" that if the Republicans win on Nov. 2, "teachers will be placed mandatorily under social security in the interest of economy and robbed of their retirement rights."

Leader termed the Democrats the "original pro-education party" in the state. He cited the Teachers Tenure Act and others for which he said its party is responsible.

"The Democratic party lifted the teaching profession to new heights and broke the chains of an insecure servitude which in bygone years made our educators a subject to the whims and caprices of political ward heelers and impudent party bosses," said Leader.

Republican leaders, he said, after 15 years in power "can point only to a record of appropriations grudgingly made in response to pressures by the Democratic party."

Ike's Health Plan To Be Resubmitted

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower declared tonight his program designed to bolster voluntary health insurance programs—a program shelved by the Republican-run 83rd Congress—is "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

In an address prepared for delivery at a dinner honoring the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, the President said the proposal will be resubmitted to the next session of Congress, convening in January. Eisenhower said his health plan "will be an important part of a health program (filling) in the great gaps in the field of health."

The President's speech tonight—labeled "nonpolitical" by the White House—came after a busy day in New York which included a three and a half hour tour of housing, highway and hospital projects. He also put the spurs to New York Republicans, workers in the party's home stretch drive for continued control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

Late in the day, the chief executive met with former Rep. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey—target of factional opposition within his own Republican party—and the White House reported after the conference that Eisenhower "has not changed one iota" in his endorsement of Case, in his bid for a U. S. Senate seat on the Republican ticket.

Among others, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is lined up against Case.

Eisenhower's address tonight—carried nationwide on television and radio—was mainly a warm tribute to Al Smith, late governor of New York and 1928 Democratic presidential nominee.

The President said Smith "was incapable of entertaining or tolerating a thought directed toward the violent destruction of the governmental system of our free country."

The chief executive added:

"He was a deadly foe of communism and fascism. Who can doubt that he would have supported and applauded, if alive in 1954, every one of the laws of the recent Congress to make more certain the discovery of subversives, to speed their removal from influential positions, to mete out to them legal punishment."

"Though he would have repudiated injustice toward, or persecution of, any individual, yet he would have been as stern as George Washington in dealing with any one properly convicted of betraying this nation."

Peace Indicated In Dock Walkout

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—A surprise hint that peace may be near in Britain's waterfront strike came tonight from government circles as the walkout's paralyzing grip deepened into the island kingdom's economy.

The 18-day strike of some 44,000 workers in the nation's major seaports has tied up 300 million dollars worth of exports and imports and has idled more than 350 ships.

School Jointure Differs From Union Of Districts

By LEONARD RANDOLPH

THERE ARE TWO sides to every question you can think up. Whether the issue is a large one or a small one makes no real difference. There will still be a number of people arguing "pro" and a similar number putting in a word "con."

The old saying is particularly true right now in Monroe County where a proposal for school union including three districts—Stroudsburg, Stroud Township and Delaware Water Gap—is now before the voting public.

Voters are slated to vote "yes" or "no" on the union school proposal on Nov. 2. Which way will the election go?

The only answer to that question at this moment—a week before the vote—is "It's anybody's guess."

Although there are some persons who have expressed decided opposition to the school union proposal, there are apparently many more who have not yet made up their minds.

According to PTA officials at Analomink in Stroud Township, for example, the principal feeling in that area is one of confusion. Some parents at Analomink have indicated they don't know enough about the proposal to decide just yet.

Other PTA meetings in Stroudsburg, Water Gap and Clearview, have shown some lively discussion on the major points of union—but there is apparently a more cordial feeling toward the proposal in those districts.

General Assembly Shelves Red China's Bid By Voting To Accept Nationalists' Papers

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—The General Assembly buried Red China's U. N. membership hopes decisively today for the rest of the year.

Against the background of a resolution adopted on opening day exactly a month ago—to shelve the Red China issue—the Assembly took a separate vote on Nationalist China's credentials. Only 10 countries voted against accepting them. Thirty-five voted in favor and three abstained.

The five countries of the Soviet bloc, plus India, Indonesia, Burma, Sweden and Yugoslavia were the 10 that voted against Nationalist Denmark, Israel and Norway.

Vishinsky reiterated charges that the United States controlled Formosa and said that delay in considering the questions would not help the situation.

T. F. Tsing, veteran Nationalist China delegate here, scoffed at the charges that the United States controlled Formosa. "There are more Chinese on the island of Manhattan (New York) than there are Americans on Formosa," he told the Assembly.

Vishinsky, whose approval of wording of a resolution to reopen disarmament talks was still being awaited, appeared to go along with that idea by keeping the heat out of his Assembly statement. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate, told the Assembly his country did not object to a debate. He said the accusations are not true.

United States Increases Aid To Pakistan

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United States agreed today to step up sharply its aid to Pakistan, to a total of about 155 million dollars this fiscal year. The aim is to bolster the economy of a key partner in the defense system against Communism.

Of the total, 105 million would go for economic assistance, as compared with 20 million in the fiscal year ended last June. It was reported that military aid would total about 50 million, a 100 per cent increase over the figure previously planned for the current year.

Prime Minister Mohammed Ali, hastening home because of reports of political unrest in his capital, expressed satisfaction with his discussions with administration leaders, calling the talks "very profitable."

Americans Win Nobel Prize In Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 21 (AP)—Three American scientists were awarded the 1954 Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology tonight for developing new weapons in the fight against polio.

Sharing the $35,000 prize are Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical School; Dr. Thomas H. Weller of the Harvard School of Public Health; and a former associate, Dr. Frederick C. Robbins, now at Western Reserve Medical School in Cleveland. They were cited for their test tube discovery of "the ability of poliovirus to multiply in tissue from primates"—that is apes and man.

Sixteen Americans previously had won medical prizes from the nine billion dollar fund set up in 1901 under the will of Alfred Nobel.

Unexpected Death Rare

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—A team of New York medical scientists has found that sudden unexpected death—the gnawing dread of many heart victims—rarely results from an uncomplicated first attack.

Six Women, Four Men Chosen For Jury To Try Sheppard

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21 (AP)—Ten jurors were tentatively seated today in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard. A full and final panel was conceivable by nightfall Friday.

Three more housewives were added—including a lady who finds it hard to change her mind. There now are six women and four men, with two vacancies to fill. Then a weeding out process occurs and a final panel is sworn in.

The last woman seated was Mrs. Grace L. Prinz, mother of four and wife of a meat packing foreman. She declared during questioning that once her mind is made up it isn't easily changed.

She finally conceded she could discuss the case with her fellow jurors and conceivably change her mind to agree with them. Then she added firmly:

"But there would have to be an awful lot of discussion about it."

The defense in its fourth day of examining prospective jurors began picking away at bulwarks in the state's case—the demand for the death penalty and the circumstantial evidence against the 30-year-old osteopath.

Sheppard is accused of beating his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, to death July 4 in the bedroom of their lakefront home. In pleading innocent, he claimed a bushy-haired man invaded the house, killed his wife and knocked him unconscious.

The state has no known witnesses to the slaying. But it has built up a circumstantial case. It has placed Sheppard on the scene. And it has offered as a possible motive his purported love affair with 24-year-old Susan Hayes, a pretty technician who once worked in the same hospital with him.

Asst. prosecutor John J. Mahon bore down at one point during the day to stress that Ohio law allows a conviction and a death sentence "on circumstantial evidence alone."

Court Sets Hearing In Y Dispute

THE YMCA and electrical contractor Matthew Kime yesterday filed complaint for an injunction against the electrical union.

The complaint charges the union with trying to coerce Kime into forcing his men to join the union.

It claims the picketing is an unlawful attempt to force the Y to breach its contract with Kime and with Hanford L. Cleveland, non-union plumbing contractor.

And, petitioners say, the electrical union's action is aimed at thwarting and defeating a court injunction which forbade the plumbers union from picketing the job. President Judge Fred W. Davis set the time for the union's answer as 10 a.m. Thursday in county court.

E. Holt Wyckoff Jr. signed the complaint as YMCA president on Monday. Kime, who is doing the electrical work on the new YMCA building, signed Tuesday. Judge Davis' order was signed Wednesday. The complaint and order were filed at 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

Defendants are Local 367 of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Easton; business agent Francis Lyons; and the picket, Clarence Piper Jr., Stroud Township, who started picketing the morning of Oct. 5.

In the eight-page complaint, YMCA counsel Arlington W. Williams, Alex L. Bensinger and James T. Kitson reviewed the history of the YMCA construction program. They recalled awarding of contracts to Kime and Cleveland, and to H. C. Archibald Co. for the heating and Paul L. Edinger as general contractor.

The complaint mentioned the first picketing and work-stoppage on Sept. 28, 1953 when a plumbers union picket went on duty. The picketing continued until Cleveland went to court and in July this year won an injunction against the union.

The complaint says there is no contract between union and plaintiffs, and the union does not represent any of Kime's men.

Lyons and the union made "repeated attempts" in September, October and November last year to induce Kime to make his men join the union, the complaint states. But, "Kime, desiring not to coerce his employees," declined to do it.

Only work which has been done at the Y since the electrical picket appeared has been by Cleveland's or Kime's men, the complaint says.

There have been no demands on Kime for changes in wages, hours or working conditions either before or after picketing, the complaint went on.

In the next paragraph the Y attorneys allege the union is trying to "coerce ... Kime to, in turn, coerce his employees" to join the union and fire those who don't.

The electrical union's picketing and acts are "in cooperation and in concert with" those of the plumbers union, the attorneys added.

The complaint went into another point—that "great damage" is being caused to the part of the building already completed because of the elements. This will increase construction costs by "a large amount," plaintiffs say.

Two campaigns have been made to get public donations to make

Condon Faces New Security Review

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Navy today suspended the limited security clearance it gave last July to Dr. Edward U. Condon, physicist and former head of the government's Bureau of Standards.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas ordered a further review of the whole case. He said that after a personal study he had decided that "there is sufficient evidence to warrant my requesting a complete reconsideration of this action."

No hint of the nature of the evidence was given.

Analomink 'Town Meeting' Poses Pertinent Questions Regarding Union Of Schools

ANALOMINK SCHOOL PTA held its "town meeting" discussion of the proposed union school district this week.

In their introduction to the meeting the three panel members—John Schimmel, Stroud board member; Rex Harding, supervising principal, and Harry Anton, Analomink principal—explained that they were attempting to explain the facts of union.

It was not the purpose of the discussion, the panel said, to tell Stroud residents how to vote on the union issue. The vote will be taken on Nov. 2 during the general election by Stroud, Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap, the three districts involved in the proposed union.

Schimmel and Harding outlined the proposed plan including financial changes and educational advantages that could be forthcoming from a union of the three districts.

Among the questions which arose during the Analomink meeting which had not been asked at previous meetings were the following:

"Wouldn't it be more logical to have two members from each district and one elected at large rather than one from each district and four at large?"

Schimmel replied that one at large would not give a great enough majority to make major decisions. (The union district would maintain all its directors after formation. As directors' terms expire they will be dropped from the board and not replaced until the seven-member board—one from each district and four elected at large—is achieved.)

"What are enrollments at Clearview and Analomink at the present time?" Administrators mentioned that the two schools were already in an overcrowded condition, that more space will be needed next year, that Clearview will probably have to take the Analomink fifth grade next year. "Is there any possibility of teachers being shifted within the system?"

Harding replied that although a shifting of teachers is possible within a school district that the shift seldom takes place unless a teacher makes the request.

"Is it possible that Stroudsburg would control the teachers?" Schimmel replied that in his estimation teachers would be governed by the administrative and staff policies of their own schools.

"Would teachers at a given grade level in each school be given equal salaries?"

Harding replied that the teachers' salaries would be determined by the state.

200 Persons To Take Part In Gilbert Pilgrimage To Old Polytechnic Institute

GILBERT—Nearly 200 men and women from all parts of Pennsylvania will make a pilgrimage tonight to a 68-year-old schoolhouse here.

The schoolhouse is the old Polytechnic Institute, founded at Gilbert in 1886 by Rev. Frank W. Smith as a private school for Monroe County boys and girls.

Although the building closed, as a schoolhouse, in 1922, it has continued to serve the community of Gilbert in many ways. It is now used as the Sunday School chapel and guild hall of Salem Church.

In 1922 Polytechnic's functions were assumed by Polk school in Kresgeville. The school buildings still stand beside the newly-rebuilt Salem E and M Church.

Tonight at 6:30 the reunion dinner will begin. An estimated 160 or more persons will attend and a roll call will be taken. Former principals Ralph Feltham and Frank Christman will attend, along with many former teachers and students.

Polytechnic graduates have gone on to many walks of life in the State. They are listed on the rolls of Franklin and Marshall, Yale Divinity School, Ursinus and Pennsylvania State University.

Mrs. Dorothy Leffler, now a resident of Emmaus and an Institute graduate, is reservations-arrangements chairman for tonight's meeting.

Unprofitable Contempt

When Clyde L. Powell went on trial yesterday charged with contempt of court, the ousted former chief of the F.H.A.'s Rental Housing Division discovered that it is not profitable to treat the legal processes of our land lightly.

Powell, facing charges preferred by a special federal grand jury, has been stubbornly refusing to produce official records and diaries kept by him during his eight years occupancy of the job in which it has been indicated he acted in a manner less than honorable.

The jury needs the records in its study of what Senator Bush of Connecticut has called "the billion dollar scandal of scandals." Powell has twice refused to produce them, just as he refused to answer questions before the Capehart Senate Banking Committee.

Perhaps he has lost sight of the fact that it is entirely within the discretion of a trial judge to impose severe punishment upon conviction for contempt. Actually, Judge F. Dickinson Letts can send the defendant to prison until he purges himself by obeying the orders of the court.

It is high time that justice is meted out to men who have apparently treated their assigned responsibilities lightly, and who are compounding their fault by brazenly and arrogantly assuming a position above the law.

The great majority of men and women in our country, who live honorable lives and detect the machinations of those who forget the requirements of good citizenship, are thoroughly disgusted with the actions of such individuals.

Let Mr. Powell be given a fair trial, but let him not be permitted to hide behind dubious legal maneuvers. If he is innocent, he will go free. If he is guilty, let the due processes of law obtain.

Olympic Preparations

Last Saturday, by Presidential proclamation, was national Olympic Day, designed to stimulate support for the United States teams to be sent out in competition against world athletes from many other countries at the next Olympics.

Few people realize that our government has never taken the view that it should give financial support to the teams we send out every four years. In many other lands, perhaps in most, government support is forthcoming in order that there should be no doubt about putting their best foot forward in the great international games.

Anyway, right or wrong, the government of the United States has not and will not provide appropriations from the public treasury for the training, equipment, and transportation of the teams, so it falls upon every one of us to lend a hand.

It is especially imperative that we do all we can, because the Soviet Union is going to extreme lengths to win the 1956 games in Australia, and will leave nothing undone to assure such a victory. They are going about in typically Russian fashion, of course, promising their athletes special economic favors if they win and threatening penalties if they lose. The spirit of the Olympic games seems to be lost in the Soviet shuffle.

In January of 1956, the Olympic winter sports will be held at Cortina, in the Italian Dolomites, followed by the equestrian events in Stockholm in June and the main games at Melbourne, Australia, in November. So there is little time for us to decide whether we are sufficiently interested to keep our flag in Olympic competition.

We believe most people are interested, and proud of American athletic accomplishments. Let's see if they back up that interest with the requisite financial support.

George Sokolsky Says...

Judge Youngdahl's Decision On Lattimore Gives Idea Matter Of Lying Is Abstruse

The Lattimore Case will be with us for some time, now that it is case to trial. It is only fair to treat this as any other matter before the courts, without prejudice for or against the defendant or for or against the Government. Controversy should end at the threshold of a courtroom, where only a jury and judge endeavor a decision.

The objection of the Department of Justice to Judge Luther W. Youngdahl as the sitting judge in the Lattimore Case arises from his decision of May 2, 1953, on a motion to throw out the indictment of that expert on Far Eastern affairs. The unusual step taken by Leo A. Rover, the U. S. Attorney in the case, supported by Herbert Haggard, Jr., Attorney General, can hardly be understood unless one has read the testimony before the Tydings Committee, the testimony before the McCarran Committee investigating the Institute of Pacific Relations, and the decision rendered by Judge Youngdahl which not only threw out four out of seven counts of the indictment but contained unusual language amounting to oblique dicta.

Judge Youngdahl said in his decision: "Defendant in the first count is charged with lying in denying that he was a sympathizer or promoter of Communist interests. It seems to the court that this charge is so nebulous and indefinite that a jury would have to indulge in speculation in order to arrive at a verdict. Sympathies and beliefs and what they mean to different individuals involve concepts that are highly nebulous and speculative at best..."

This language is difficult to understand. The question at issue was and is, did Owen Lattimore lie or did he tell the truth? If he told the truth, a jury could not convict him; if he lied, a jury might convict him. It is up to the Government to prove that he did lie; it is up to Lattimore to establish that the Government is wrong, that he did, in fact, not lie.

Therefore, what is here said by Judge Youngdahl gives the impression that he regards the question of lying too abstruse, too difficult for an American jury to understand. But our system of jurisprudence is based on the assumption that a man is tried by his peers who determine the issues, the judge only making sure that there is no violation of the law.

Why then is a charge "nebulous" and "indefinite" when it specifically and clearly states that what is before the court is whether a lie was or was not spoken. In millions of cases, particularly those pertaining to marital relations, "sympathies and beliefs," how could there be a marriage except by coercion or bargain?

The judge went further in this argument: "...I presume a person could sympathize with a belief and yet still not believe. To probe the mind in a situation like this would give rise to nothing more than sheer speculation on the part of the prober. It is fundamental that a jury should not be asked to determine an issue which can be decided only on conjecture..."

But the issue is not one of sympathy or belief. It is whether the truth or a falsehood was told under oath. Maybe to the layman all this is too simple, but it appears that the Department of Justice is also surprised at the nature of Judge Youngdahl's opinion.

In our system no man is guilty until proved so in a court of law under the safeguards of the rules of evidence. As it stands at the moment, Owen Lattimore is guilty of nothing under the law. He may never be. But it is not to his advantage that he should be tried by a judge who could say in 1953: "In our proper concern for the internal and external threat of Communism and in pursuing our efforts to strike down this threat, we should endeavor to be consistent and not attempt to require a conformity in thought and beliefs that has no relevancy to a present danger to our security..."

This oblique dicta had nothing to do with the indictment in the Lattimore Case. It had nothing to do with the facts of American life after the theft of the atom bomb and the failure in Korea.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

(This is National Bible Week, and President Eisenhower has appealed to the public for the return of the family Bible and for prayer in the spirit of the founding fathers. He has proclaimed a National Prayer Week for early celebration.)

Strengthen and guide our President and the churchmen of the world, Oh Lord, in their fight for things of the spirit, and make us smart enough to know they are 100 per cent right.

Make us unafraid of prayer in the public schools and not disposed to fire the parson if he puts a wallop into his sermon and lets the service run three minutes overtime.

Help us put into prayer something of the energy we put into a demand for more money, two tickets to the ball game, a plea for a longer week end, and something of the spirit we put into a business conference.

May we never forget that one builder of America struggled five and ten miles through snow and sleet to church and ON FOOT! May we always remember the mother and father who got there in the blizzard, didn't make a fast break for the door before the preacher had left the altar, and were disappointed if the sermon didn't blister.

May we live as if participants in a great crusade instead of forgetful people linking the church with the mood of a fast once-a-week "quickly" visit by imperial sedan. Arouse us to the absurdity of wishy-washy devotion, half-way dedication and wholly selfish supplication. Bring back the minister who made certain he was heard in the last row of the church and preached with the zeal of the apostles.

Letters To The Editor

The Daily Record welcomes letters with a bona fide address given. Such signatures and addresses will be withheld if the writer desires.

Dear Editor:

We, a group of young people have a complaint about the manner in which the Mt. Pocomo P.T.A. is handling our Saturday night dances.

It all started the second week of September when the young people wanted to continue the dances at the Mt. Pocomo firehall Saturday nights, as they had done the previous year.

After a week or two of waiting for a sponsor, we hired a band and started dances ourselves. About two weeks later a representative of the P.T.A. came to the dance requesting everyone there interested in attending the dances to sign their names to prove to the P.T.A. that it would be worth sponsoring.

Everything was running smoothly until the other night when we were told to tell the band we had hired—a group of young people like ourselves—not to come anymore because another band had been hired.

In the last few weeks we have heard a few complaints that the dances are dead, but why blame it on the band? If you're out to have a good time you can do just that, or if you want to sit around and mope, you can also do that.

Anyone, no matter what he's trying to succeed in, has to have a chance. At first he may be rusty, but as time goes on he improves. Why not give these kids a chance? The only people we've heard complain are those who stick their heads in the door for five minutes and then disappear.

Another way we look at this situation is who's dancing to the music—the P.T.A. and the five minute "snoopers" or the kids? Disgusted Teenager.

How To Finish Family Arguments Is Important

Today I have good news both for my women and my men readers. The pajama manufacturers of America have gotten together and formed the Men's Pajama Institute. Of course, one of the first things they did was to hire a press agent whose business it is to think up good promotion ideas for the product.

The manufacturers say there haven't been enough style changes in many years. Look at the women. Look at all the cute little things they have to sleep in—with frills and furbelows and, maybe, even with sequins.

But the men! Look at them after they have taken off their daytime clothes and got ready for bed. Awful, isn't it? First there is the night shirt. The less said about that the better. Might as well wear a potato sack. And there has been very little oomph about pajamas.

But the Men's Pajama Institute is going to change all that. Pajamas from now on will be made to be worn not only for bed but for leisure. The institute will, according to the announcement, also re-educate the consumer "to the health aspects of night clothes"—and now comes the snapper, "to the pajamas' positive psychological effects on family life."

Can't you imagine hubby and wife having an argument. Things look very black for their matrimonial status. So the man goes upstairs, puts on his very best pair of pajamas (the ones with the black lace trimmings and the low-cut neck) and returns to the argument.

But there is no more argument. The wife, gazing at her enticing looking husband, throws her arms around him and exclaims: "Darling, how can I resist you? You were right in the first place!"

The announcement does not say whether the Pajamas Institute's campaign is also going to include some propaganda on dieting. I have noticed that night clothes don't look so good on fellows with pot bellies.

Now comes the news for the ladies.

At Oregon State College in Corvallis, they are going to have a course in argumentation under the direction of Professor of Speech Paul K. Knoll.

One of the first students to enroll in the class is Professor Knoll's wife.

According to the comedians and gag writers, women don't really need a course in arguing—I suppose that is what "argumentation" means.

However, in real life I believe that even mothers-in-law are not such great experts when it comes to starting and finishing an argument.

I do hope that one of the main topics in that new course will be how to FINISH a family argument and restore peace to the household.

One of the most unpleasant features about arguing is that arguments leave so many questions unanswered, so many problems unsolved, and that they can cut right into the hearts of the arguers. If that is what this new college course aims to remedy—and I wish it the best of luck—then I hope that every school in the country will have one of them.

With these new psychological pajamas and college-bred argumentation, marriage should certainly come nearer to complete happiness.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

History records that in 1916, a young lieutenant just graduated from West Point, was summoned from his post at Fort Sam Houston to coach the football team of a nearby school. The coach, one Dwight D. Eisenhower, found the spirit there willing, but the material sparse. Desperately seeking reinforcements for the skinny squad, he suddenly spotted a husky specimen crossing the campus. "Look here, young fellow," he called sharply. "Why aren't you out to play football? The husky replied, "Lieutenant, I'll have you know I'm the principal of this school."

A hobo discovered through the years that doctors were comparatively soft touches, so his spirits rose when he saw a medic's shingle outside a door. A beautiful young lady answered his peep on the bell. The hobo wheezed, "Do you think the good doctor could find an old pair of pants for a fellow down on his luck?" The girl chuckled, and replied, "Quite possibly, but I doubt that they'd do you much good. You see, I happen to be the doctor."

Armed Services To Balk At Wilson's Economies

Washington, Oct. 22—A new battle is brewing among Pentagon chiefs over the military budget.

The Army, Navy and Air Force have told Defense Secretary Wilson it will be impossible for them to cut $3,000,000,000 from their budgets for next year, as he wants them to do.

This year, the services were given $29,401,326,000 by Congress, including half a billion dollars for construction of military bases. They have formally requested $29,020,000,000 for next year. Wilson is demanding they cut that to $26,000,000,000.

In fixing that sharply reduced figure, Wilson did not suggest a cut in military strength. He said he believed the 3,080,000 military force could be maintained despite the big slash in funds.

To achieve this aim, Wilson wants the services to use a large backlog of unexpended funds voted in previous years, but not yet disbursed. By June 30, 1955, this backlog will total $45,800,000,000.

But the three services contend that if the present rate of spending—about $35,000,000,000 a year—is to be maintained, new funds must be kept at the $29,000,000,000.

Under the new proposed budget, the Army, Navy and Air Force want to increase the spending rate slightly, to $35,500,000,000 a year. Wilson has asked them to cut down to $33,500,000,000 a year.

There is little dispute over the size of the forces to be maintained.

The budget requests submitted by the three services call for the following:

Army: 1,173,000, organized into nineteen combat divisions.

Navy: 690,000, operating 1,131 ships, including 408 combat vessels and 16 carrier air groups.

Air Force: 975,000, organized into 127 wings.

Marine Corps: 212,000, organized into three divisions and three air wings.

Following are the individual requests for next year (fiscal 1956), compared with totals voted by Congress for the current year (fiscal 1955):

Air Force: $11,580,000,000—$11,584,029,000.

Navy: $9,430,000,000—$9,683,332,000.

Army: $7,490,000,000—$7,619,715,000.

Defense Secretary's Office: $20,000,000—$20,250,000.

Total fiscal '56 request, $29,020,000,000.

Total fiscal '55 funds, $29,401,326,000.

Secretary Wilson is not expected to make a final decision on the dispute until after the elections.

Note: An unpublished report by Assistant Secretary of Defense W. J. McNell, in charge of the budget, shows that the Air Force is now spending approximately 45 percent of the defense dollar. During July and August, the first two months of the current fiscal year, Air Force expenditures totaled $2,409,160,000, while the Navy spent $1,537,035,000, and the Army $1,391,022,000.

More trouble—An ominous situation is developing in the small Kingdom of Laos, in Indochina. According to private word from the U. S. embassy at Saigon, there is grave danger that a Communist revolution may be touched off by their refusal to carry out terms reached at Geneva, for withdrawal of troops from Laos. One recent dispatch states: "Considerable difficulty is being encountered in Laos in the carrying out of the terms reached at Geneva as they involve withdrawal and concentration of the Vietnamese troops. Information from Vientiane (capital of Laos) is that the withdrawal of Vietnamese was not proceeding either smoothly or rapidly. Many Communist agents are being left behind."

Laotian dissidents in northern provinces give rise to additional problems. They are interpreting the Geneva accord to mean that they may exercise full powers in Phou Saly and Sam Neua regions. Compulsory political indoctrination is being enforced in the villages which they control.

"Propaganda theme of the dissident Laotians is that the true king of the country is Prince Souphanouvong, rather than the incumbent, King Sisavang Vong. There is a possibility that new tensions may cause revolutionary uprisings, and overthrow of the government."

Under the armistice terms, Vietnamese invaders are to be withdrawn gradually from Laos to Vietnam. All the Laotian dissidents are to be concentrated in northern provinces. The French are allowed to maintain two military bases and to keep 5,000 men as a training mission.

The U. S. can do nothing about it if trouble comes in Laos. That country promised, at Geneva, that it would not allow any foreign troops except French to be stationed there.

In Southern Vietnam the situation is also serious.

The U. S. has warned both the French and the Vietnamese that we may be forced to cut off all except token aid if the government headed by Ngo Dinh Diem fails. The State Department has taken a vigorous position against any attempt to establish a military dictatorship there.

Tobyhanna State Park Development To Be Completed July 1

Work Centers Around Large Bathing Beach

WORK ON State-approved plans for further development of the Tobyhanna State Park will probably be completed by July 1, 1955, according to information released here yesterday by S. S. Lewis, secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters.

E. C. Pyle, Pocono District forester, said the added facilities at Tobyhanna park will include new parking space, a bathing beach, bath house and toilet facilities. Construction of a beach on the 165-acre lake is of "vital concern to all," the department said, "not only to residents of the county but to thousands who vacation in the region."

The lake has been drawn down three to three and one-half feet. Construction is now being rushed so that underwater work can be completed and water level brought back to normal before winter. Because of the work being done, fishing is prohibited during the construction period.

At present, Pyle said, the beach is 75 per cent completed. It is in a natural cove, shaped in the form of a letter "J" about 600 feet long. It will extend into the water 50 to 100 feet and is only two and one-half to three feet deep.

One area in the center beyond 100 feet from the shore will run three to five feet deep for another 50 feet into the lake, the department report said. Life guard stations will be located near the edge of the deep areas in the lake to afford greater protection.

Debris, rocks, stumps and boulders have been removed from the beach area and all mud for rock removed from the lake down to solid bottom, the report announced. Gravel has been hauled to cover the entire under water area. It will be rolled then sanded to make the underwater surface smooth.

The turf will be heavily sanded for 25 feet back of water's edge. The 50 to 75 feet back of this will be seeded to grass.

The bath house—in reality a dressing "stockade" with toilets—is now half-completed, the department said. The structure is approximately 80 by 15 feet and adjacent to the main beach area.

Work on parking space so far has added room for 160 cars. Parking areas—making room for about 60 more cars—will be constructed adjacent to the beach. The area will be "roughed out" during the winter and completed by July 1 in time for use with other facilities, Pyle said.

Construction of 50 additional tables for picnickers is now being carried out to add to the 125 tables already on the grounds. Workers will begin clearance of five more acres of forest for picnic grounds between the parking areas and the beach, Pyle said.

Four deep wells have been drilled and are in use, providing pure tested drinking water, the Lewis report said. With most of the approved development already well underway, "there is no doubt but that every facility approved will be ready for public use by July 1, 1955," the report said.

Last Of 120 Jackson Pupils Get Gamma Globulin Shots

REEDERS—Thirty more shots of anti-polio gamma globulin were given, mostly to Jackson Township School students, here yesterday.

At the same time, additional supplies were ordered to inoculate some 15 Sunday school pupils in Reeds who had been in direct contact with young Arthur Koerner of this village, now a polio victim at St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem.

Koerner was reported in "fair" condition last night.

The shots for the Sunday school youngsters will be given by family physicians in each case, with the material forwarded by Dr. R. Frederick Jones, county medical director.

Yesterday marked the wind-up of the county's first mass inoculation. More than 120 students at the school received shots. Handling yesterday's injections were Dr. and Mrs. Jones and State health nurse Mrs. Ann Shafer.

Chestnuthill; Theodore Hoffman, Pen Argyl and Frisbie, area adviser.

The Sitting Judges . . for Superior Court

CHESTER H. RHODES—F. CLAIR ROSS—ROBERT E. WOODSIDE

As requested by the Pennsylvania Bar Association, which traditionally endorses the reelection of sitting judges who have proved their ability and fairness, the Democratic Party is recommending the nomination and election of the three sitting judges of the Superior Court, two Democrats and one Republican.

Judge CHESTER H. RHODES, the President Judge of the Superior Court, has completed twenty years of outstanding service. He was first elected in 1934 and then reelected in 1944. He is a native of Monroe County, and a graduate of Lehigh University, holding B.A. and M.A. degrees. He previously served as District Attorney of Monroe County and was a member of the State House of Representatives from 1924 to 1934. The Democratic Party is proud of his outstanding record.

Judge F. CLAIR ROSS is the other Democratic Judge seeking reelection. He was first elected in 1944, after previously serving both as State Treasurer and as Auditor General of Pennsylvania. A native of Butler County, Judge Ross was graduated from Grove City College, the University of Michigan Law School and Columbia University Law School. He served as Deputy Attorney General of Pennsylvania from 1935 until 1937. A veteran of World War I, he has long been active in veterans affairs, particularly in the American Legion. He now makes his home in Harrisburg, Dauphin County. The Democratic Party is also proud of his outstanding record.

Judge ROBERT E. WOODSIDE, a Republican, was appointed by the Governor to fill a vacancy on the Court in 1953. At that time he was Attorney General of Pennsylvania, and he had previously been a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from 1941 to 1951. He served in the State House of Representatives from 1932 until 1941. A native of Millersburg, Dauphin County, he is a graduate of Dickinson College and the Dickinson School of Law.

County PSEA Announces Committees

COMMITTEE chairmen for Monroe County's branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association have been announced.

According to Warren F. Nonnemaker, Coalinga, branch president, the following committee heads have been named:

Ralph Burrows, legislative; Lester Dunmick, welfare; C. Willis Dunlap, ethics; Harold Lee, public relations; Joseph Kulick, social; Gilbert Dunning, program.

Other officers of the branch are Harry Young, first vice president; Harold Lee, second vice president, who made the announcement of election with Nonnemaker.

Next regular meeting of the county PSEA will be held at Coalinga school in Tolyhanna on Monday, Nov. 8 with a third meeting planned for Jan. 20 at Pocono school, Tannersville.

"What would happen if, after the union had been formed and buildings had been erected, the union should be dissolved through some misfortune?"

Schimmel said to his knowledge none of the 51 unions now in existence in Pennsylvania have failed. That should this dissolution come to pass, the assets of the district would be proportionately divided.

PTA and school officials reported the meeting showed that Anasimink residents are "vitaly concerned" with the union question and that they showed a desire for more information on the subject.

Foreign Trade Increase Seen

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP) — The next big step in the nation's economic development will be a broad increase in its foreign trade, Henry C. Alexander, president of J. P. Morgan & Co., declared today.

"The turn, I believe, is in this direction of greater world trade and investment," he said.

A recent survey in Indonesia indicates the country has 82 million people and 82 million chickens.

Diamond Jubilee Of Light Marked By Power Industry

SEVENTY-FIVE years ago yesterday Thomas Alva Edison and his associates perfected the first practical incandescent lamp—the first practical basis on which the tremendous electric power industry was founded.

Recently, at a luncheon arranged by Paul McBride, region Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. manager and attended by H. M. Schelden, vice president, Lehigh Division of the firm, three regional chief burgesses jointly signed a proclamation on observance of the Diamond Jubilee of Light.

Each was presented with an attractive scroll in commemoration of Light's Diamond Jubilee Week which concludes at the week-end with widespread observance, including radio and television shows.

In signing the proclamation Chief Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory, East Stroudsburg; Hal H. Harris, Stroudsburg, and Gerald Possinger, Mt. Pocono noted that:

"Electricity has helped elevate America to a position of world leadership in terms of productive light and standard of living. We acknowledge the contributions of all segments of the industry—manufacturers, distributors, contractors, dealers, electric companies and others."

Helicopter 'Unveils' First Slate Quarry For Storing Fuel Oil—42 Million Gallons

WIND GAP—World's first slate quarry used for oil storage was formally "unveiled" here yesterday.

While area officials, borough councilmen and oil industry brass watched, the helicopter landed on the floating steel pontoon "roof" which covers the 42 million gallons of home-heating oil in the quarry. More than 25 press photographers and TV cameramen trained their lenses on the craft. When it rose into the air again it lifted an enormous white cloth which had been laid on the roof before the ceremonies started.

Under the cloth was a 100-foot "Esso" oval for Esso Standard Oil Co., the company which is making the unique attempt to solve the industry's perennial headache.

If the headache is cured it will mean something to the home-owner: Cheaper fuel oil.

That was the gist of statements by Robert H. Scholl, Esso director and vice-president. Ample storage space above or below ground permits more efficient operation of oil refineries on a year-round basis.

At present, Scholl said, refineries are kept uneconomically hopping between peak seasonal demands.

CLU Puts Off Support For Easton Chest

EASTON—Central Labor Union support of the Easton Community Chest is still being withheld this year.

The reason for the CLU's "neutral" stand—a difference between the CLU in Monroe County and the YMCA board in Stroudsburg.

The Easton CLU said yesterday it had delayed formal support or withdrawal of support of the Easton Chest drive until getting a report on efforts made by the national YMCA to bring about a "settlement" of the Stroudsburg dispute.

The dispute involves employment of non-union labor on the new Y building in Stroudsburg. Picketing of the building—preventing the majority of workers from working—has been carried out by two separate unions.

First of the two was the local plumbers union which held up work on the building for ten months through picketing. This work stoppage was eventually halted by a court-granted injunction against the picketing.

A short while later a second picket—from the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers—began picketing again. A petition for injunction against this picketing was filed yesterday in Monroe County Court-house by Y directors and the electrical contractor.

Stewart Seifert, CLU secretary in Easton, said "if no settlement is arrived at in Stroudsburg, we will not put ourselves out on a limb to urge our locals to support the local Community Chest drive."

Rev. Samuel Jaxheimer, Easton

Chest president, said he had received word that the New York office of the National YMCA will investigate the dispute and do whatever it can to help effect a settlement.

The Easton Community Chest—when first notified that the Easton CLU planned such a "neutral" position—maintained that Monroe County's Y problem had nothing to do with the Easton Chest drive.

Local BPW's Share In Conference

The Stroudsburg Business and Professional Women's Club will not only have a large representation of members at the meeting of the District 8 to be held at Pocono Manor on October 23 and 24, but will also have an active part in the meeting itself.

Miss Joyce Ruff, of Stroudsburg, is district chairman, and will preside at the council meeting and general business meeting on Saturday afternoon.

At the banquet on Saturday night, Mrs. Hilda P. LaBar and Miss Frances Davis, both members of the Stroudsburg Club will be honored with other past district chairmen of District 8.

A workshop will be held on Saturday afternoon on "Legislation." It will be conducted by Mrs. Isabelle J. Jones of Pittsburgh, who is both national and state legislation chairman of BPW.

Miss Mildred Whitby of Olyphant, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, will be the speaker at the Saturday night banquet. Other entertainment will also be furnished.

Two new features will mark the district meeting. A prize will be given to the club having the best new scrapbook covering the last club year; and a Traveling Club will be awarded the club whose members traveled the greatest aggregate number of miles to the conference.

There is no planned program on Sunday.

She was assisted by Anna Serfas and Carrie Sluter; pianist Flora Garis; colorbearers Mildred Shaw, Lavine Hoffman, Verna Shoemaker and Stella Detrick; and chaplain Stettin Smith.

The following officers of Camp 151 were installed: Assistant president, Dora Hartman; vice president, Anna Crimbling; chaplain, Estella Granacher; conductor, Laura Niering; guard, Hannah Shively.

There were visiting members from Camp 289, Stroudsburg, and Camp 208, Saylorsburg, including two POS of A members.

Elva Knowles of Camp 208 presented a skit about a mother and her baby on the nurse's night out.

After the meeting refreshments were served.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's never possible to capture the full flavor of these town meetings, or the intensity of feeling which somehow builds up. However, even after two such meetings, I wasn't quite prepared for the Delaware Water Gap meeting on school union.

When you entered the firehouse, you were immediately confronted with a big Red Cross and a hospital bed—all made and waiting, it seemed, for the casualties. Took a little while to realize that the equipment was there for the home nursing course not the town meeting.

As it turned out, there wasn't any bloodshed at all, and the wounds, if any, were not physical. The innocent bystander is the one who does the wondering. Listening without emotional earphones, you get a little frantic as you realize that both the question and the answer are being quite misunderstood.

And then it's such a blessed relief when they finally realize that they're not on opposite sides of the fence but are really saying the same thing—but in different ways.

In addition to a pencil and paper, a reporter needs a good gag in his mouth, at times, to keep from trying to interpret. You know what happens in a family argument when an outsider tries to interfere.

Anyway everything worked out just fine. In the long run, nobody is convinced by anybody's arguments but his own. But when he has argued himself into a similar point of view, he's really convinced.

100 Attend POA District Meeting

Tannersville — The district meeting of the P.O. of A. camps of Monroe County was held at the Tannersville Fire Hall on Oct. 13, with the District President, Ethel Rinker presiding. The six camps of the county were well represented with visitors from six other camps within the state, bringing the attendance over the 100 mark.

Camp 208 opened the meeting with a formal "Preliminary Opening." Estella Smith, district chaplain read the Scriptures.

Camp 151 was in charge of reception of National and State Officers. One Past National and one Past State Assistant President were received. State Officers received included state president, Mary Abel; state assistant president, Susan Garinger; chaplain, Gloria Abel; color bearer, Estella Smith; sentinel, Myrtle Kimble. The district president, Ethel Rinker — Monroe; Mary Kilpatrick — Northampton; Elizabeth Meyer — Luzerne; and national pianist, Jeannette Harris, as well as appointed committee members were received.

Virginia Simons of Mt. Pocono, one of the hostess camps, welcomed the group, with Roberta Kimble of Camp 208, Saylorsburg, responding.

Initiation was exemplified by Camps 225 and 241 when nine candidates were added to the order, three into Camp 208, two into Camp 289 and four into Camp 211.

The altar was draped by Camp 247 in memory of three departed members.

The district president appointed her committees on resolutions, memorials, and School to report at the next district meeting which will be held at Kresgeville sometime in April.

The state president, Mary Abel, of Easton ED1 addressed the group. She said this was the largest district meeting she had attended in the state. The state assistant president, Susan Garinger of Wilkes-Barre spoke. Both complimented the Camps on the excellent work they had exemplified, also the district president Ethel Rinker on the meeting she conducted.

Refreshments were served.

Manzi Honored On Golden Wedding Day

Portland — Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Manzi, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, held an open house following a family dinner with 32 relatives present.

The day opened for the Manzis with a special Mass held in their honor on Sunday morning in St. Vincent Church, Portland, of which they are members.

The open house was held from 2 until 5 with many friends calling with gifts and cards, flowers and a three-tier wedding cake.

When you are making sandwiches for the lunch box, never use melted butter for spreading the bread before adding the spread. Melted butter has a tendency to make the bread soggy; use creamed butter or margarine instead.

The president of the Dingman's Ferry PTA, Mrs. Romain Whitaker, and three members of the PTA, were guests at the meeting.

A delegation from Bushkill will attend the Pike County Council on Thursday night at Dingman's Ferry School and also on Saturday at a session of the Monroe and Pike County Councils, at Milford.

Mrs. Laubner asked that any person interested in attending one or both of these sessions, may contact her for arrangements.

Following the meeting the group were served refreshments by the hostesses, Mrs. B. H. Bensley and Mrs. Wilford Moore. The next meeting will be on Thursday night, November 11.

Mix a couple of tablespoons of French dressing with half a cup of mayonnaise; add chili sauce or catsup, Worcestershire sauce and prepared horseradish to taste. Serve with a seafood salad.

Masquerade Party Program For Y-Gradale

A local version of TV's "Masquerade Party" marked the meeting of Stroudsburg chapter of Y-Gradale, held October 18 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. It was arranged by the social committee.

Featured as panelists were Jean "Jackie" Farry, Dorothy "Buff" Boushell; Mary "Ogden" Henning; and Fran "Hilga" Lawson.

The first masquerader, complete with sheet as a ghost writer and carrying a small football, was Jiff Riley of the Daily Record; the second guest, encased in cardboard designed as a pencil, was Mrs. Grace E. Grace, Y-Gradale past secretary, and secretary at Wyckoff's; and the third masquerader with a box radio on top of his turban, turned out to be Emerson "Turk" Rahn, local hairdresser.

Mrs. Russell Scheller presided at the business meeting. Committees were named for the rummage sale to be held October 29 and 30 at Muransky's.

Mrs. Jack Luckey and Mrs. Guy Dean III gave reports of the session they attended at the recent state Y-Gradale Convocation. The Convocation was the first held since Y-Gradale became a national organization in July. New materials and applications for charters in the national organization were presented by Mrs. Hazel Clark, state mentor.

Mrs. Scheller announced that the local chapter will meet at the Tuberculosis Society Rooms on Monday, October 25, at 7:30 p.m. to staff envelopes.

Following the program cider and doughnuts were served by the refreshment committee: Mrs. James Farry, Mrs. Gail Fegley and Mrs. James Detrick.

Pie Festival Tuesday Night

A pie festival is scheduled for Tuesday, October 26 from 7 to 10 in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. It is sponsored by Mrs. Fred Davis Sunday School class.

Tickets will entitle visitors to a piece of homemade pie of their own choice and may be purchased from many members of the class. In addition ice cream, fudge, coffee and soda will be sold. The public is invited. There will be free movies for the youngsters.

Miss Hartman To Be Wed On Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Hartman, of 321 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Harriet Joan Hartman, to Leonard Melroy Berger, of Kunkletown.

They will be married on Saturday, October 23 by Rev. William Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

Roosevelt PTA Plans Events For The Group

Bangor — The Roosevelt Parent-Teachers Association held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Roosevelt school building. Final arrangements for a card party were made to be held Nov. 19 in the Jacksonian Democratic Club Hall.

Announcement was made of the Northampton County Council of Parent-Teachers Association to be held Nov. 6 in the Glendon Methodist Church, Easton. Announcement was also made of American Education Week Nov. 7-13. An invitation was made by the Bangor Branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association for all teachers to attend "open house" festivities on Tuesday, Nov. 9, in the afternoon for the elementary schools and from 7 to 9 p.m. for the high school.

It was decided to purchase some folding chairs as the club project for the year. The association also decided to purchase four new safety flags for the use of the safety patrol.

It was announced, also, that fluoride treatments for the third grade students would begin on Monday, Oct. 25. Mrs. Muriel Miller was named to take charge of that project.

The banner award for attendance went to the fourth grade. Miss Adalyn Duvall, teacher, Mrs. Grace Tinsley, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Dr. Josephson Shows Film To Garden Club

Bushkill — Members and guests of the Bushkill Garden Club were entertained on Thursday night when Dr. Neil Josephson showed a film on his trip to the Antarctic with the Byrd Expedition in 1946. Before the film, Dr. Josephson told about the various expeditions which had gone to the South Pole and then during the film he gave a narration of the 1946 expedition.

Following his talk there was a question and answer session by the group. Many Bushkill School children attended. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades had recently completed class discussions on the Antarctic and the program proved very educational for them.

Mrs. Charles Fisher, president, addressed the members and guests and presented Mrs. Robert B. Irwin, who introduced the speaker.

The next meeting of the club will be on Thursday afternoon, November 11, at 2 p.m., at the home of Miss Hilda B. Wells, at which time Dr. Edna Rosenkrans will be the speaker.

Class Plans Food Sale

Portland — The October meeting of Class Endurance of the Portland Methodist Church was held the past week at the home of Mrs. Blair Rusing. Mrs. Harry Bellis opened the meeting with prayer.

The class decided to hold a sale of rolls, frankfurters, home-made ice cream, cake and coffee in the social room of the church Saturday, Nov. 13, from 4 p.m. They also decided to renew Barry Trammie's subscription to the "Blairtown Press."

Those present were Mrs. Daisy Decker, Mrs. Nick Ervey, Mrs. Harry Morgan, Miss Ruth Williams, Mrs. Harry Bellis and the hostess, Mrs. Blair Rusing. Guests present were Mrs. Charles Dunbar, of Freeport, L. I., and Mrs. Floyd Ike, of Easton.

Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Smithfield Halloween Party Today

The annual Halloween party sponsored by the graduating class of the Smithfield School will be held tonight at the school with the grand march scheduled for 7:30.

This annual party draws capacity crowds each year of parents and friends to watch the children in masquerade. There is no admission charge, but the class, taught by Mrs. Dorothy Barry, uses the proceeds from the food and booths and games which follow the judging to finance their graduation trip.

Prizes are awarded the prettiest, most original and funniest in each grade and the grand prizes are given from among the grade winners. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cohen will serve as judges.

Afterward the class has arranged a fun house, a wishing well, a fortune telling booth, as well as games. Prizes will be homemade cakes. Hot dogs, ice cream and soft drinks will be on sale.

Ever try adding finely diced raw celery and French dressing to peanut butter? Serve for lunch with hot cream of tomato soup.

How big can a card become? As big as the kindly heart that mails it, apparently... as large, and cumbersome, and as beautiful, as a heart that embraces a wide world of its fellow men, plus an eternity of sentiment. And until Uncle Sam's postmen scream "Stop," the greeting card publishers will undoubtedly go on and on, proving their point and breaking their own records.

For years we have had the "get well" and birthday cards that mail it, apparently... as large, and cumbersome, and as beautiful, as a heart that embraces a wide world of its fellow men, plus an eternity of sentiment. And until Uncle Sam's postmen scream "Stop," the greeting card publishers will undoubtedly go on and on, proving their point and breaking their own records.

But it isn't just the Get Well card that's coming in giant size these days. There are all kinds of sentiments expressed in jumbo type. As a matter of fact, one particularly fascinating creation is an African Jungle Card designed to keep the small fry happy. Opening in the manner of a book, it has a delightful poem about Africa, animals. Then, on adjacent pages we find, in gay color, a lion... an elephant... a giraffe and a zebra just waiting to be poked out of their perched niches and assembled. Priced at $1, this card, which is really a book, is a cinch to keep any child amused on birthday, sick bed, or motor trip.

One that could be construed as carrying a wish for far too much good luck, is designed by Norcross for the parents of the new baby. On the 9 1/2 by 11 inch cover, there is a picture of a very precocious new-born, with a chart, diagnosing him as "wonderful," sitting up in the regulation hospital-type bassinet, and tossing his bottle onto the floor. "Congratulations — a Million and One Good Wishes," says the text of the volume, with a reminder to turn another page. So what happens? With the turning, up hop twelve other infants in various stages of humor, with the words "And Many, Many More!" Were I ever to have received this, I'd have groaned, "So you wish me luck! Thank you. But, please, for goodness sake not so much of it!"

The new king size cards with their king size wishes are imaginative and lovely, however... particularly when they touch reverently upon the subject of Christmas. From Sweden comes an "Adventskalender"... a large, square, cheery picture on one sheet of heavy paper. At various points on the picture there are numbers, all the way up to 24. The idea is to open one of these hinged parts each day... from December 1st right thru to Christmas eve. The result is a picture story of the coming of Christ... the real meaning of the Christmas season. This particular card is priced at 39c.

This same idea has been adopted by Hallmark in far more elaborate detail in an exquisitely tinted $1 card which tells in pageantry the glorious story of Christ in a setting that includes Biblical cities such as Gaza, Hebron, Bethlehem, Jerusalem, Capernaum, Nazareth, Tyre, Jericho, and, of course, Egypt. We see the angels, the wise men, and the Holy Family, and as we swing them aside, we find beneath words from the Bible telling the story of the Nativity.

Hallmark also gives us the equally reverent but contemporary story of two little angels and their delight at the birth of the Christ-child.

As I asked before—how big can a card become? I'm not sure... but it is not to be denied that these are bigger—and better—than ever!

John Blair, Miss Lewis Are Married

Miss Carol Jane Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Lewis, of 37-16 Sixty Third St., Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., became the bride of John D. Blair, son of Mrs. Mary E. Blair of 205 North Sixth St., Stroudsburg on Saturday in the Christ Lutheran Church in Woodside. Pastor Leininger performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white taffeta applied in Alencon lace. It had a draped neckline and hooped skirt. A half cap of taffeta trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Mrs. Joseph Hopkins of Jamaica, N. Y., was her matron-of-honor. She wore a gown of dark green taffeta in a ballerina length with matching hat and carried a bouquet of long-stemmed yellow chrysanthemums.

David B. Coover of Mechanicsburg, Pa., was best man, and John W. Chamberlain of Delaware Water Gap and Edward A. Lewis Jr. of Woodside, L. I. served as ushers.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white mums and autumn leaves. White ribbon bows decorated each pew. The soloist was Miss Marion Reynolds who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride's mother wore a mauve brocade dress with a matching hat and a dark purple orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of steel gray silk with a jeweled Queen Anne collar, a matching hat and white orchid corsage.

A reception for about 100 guests was held at Pilgrim Inn, Flushing, N. Y. The tables were decorated with fall foliage and soft pink gladiolas.

They spent their honeymoon at Lake Placid and in the Adirondacks. For traveling the bride wore a charcoal gray suit, white hat and black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair will make their home in Worcester, Mass. where Mr. Blair is serving in the U. S. Army. He is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and Muhlenberg College. His bride is a graduate of Bryant High School and was employed as a secretary.

Altar Rosary Society Plans Coming Events

Plans for future events were discussed at the meeting of the Altar and Rosary Society at St. Matthew's R. C. Church school auditorium. Mrs. Adolph Oppel presided, and was assisted by the secretary, Miss Clara Lombardi, and the treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Leonard.

Miss Marie Brown, chairman of the ways and means "surprise package" of the night gave a report.

The annual bazaar to be held Nov. 10 in the school auditorium was discussed and final plans were announced by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Grace.

Mrs. Theodora Vlechnicki, chairman of the Communion Breakfast, to be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel this Sunday, reported everything in readiness. The breakfast will be held at 10:15 a.m. immediately following Mass at St. Matthew's at 9.

Rev. Francis Durkin, moderator of the society, explained the mission to be held at St. Matthew's from November 14 to November 21. He asked for the prayers of the society for the success of the mission. In this Marian Year, it should be a Marian Mission, he said.

Mrs. Michael Chaffler sang "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by Robert MacGinsey and "My Hero," by Oscar Straus. She was accompanied by Mrs. Henry Hefele.

The program, presented by Mrs. Hefele, was on the theme "Home Decorations." Mrs. Dorthea Shaller, a graduate of Munsell Color School and moderator of her own radio program, "Your Hostess," spoke on "Importance of Color in Decorating." She was assisted by Leo J. Kirchner and Fred Fetherman, representing a paint company.

The hospitality chairman was Mrs. John Hauser. Mrs. Edna Colonius and Miss Rose Coco presided at the tea table which was decorated in autumn colors.

Other members of the hospitality committee were: Mrs. George Caramella, Mrs. Anna Catalonotti, Mrs. Stephen Choberka, Mrs. Fred Christman, Mrs. Joseph Clampi, Mrs. Frank Coco, Miss Millie Coco, Mrs. Miles Bossard Jr., Mrs. Andrew Blando, Mrs. Joseph Corby, Mrs. Vernon Cortright and Mrs. Joseph Battaglini.

Harmon Talk Delights Garden Club

The Monroe County Garden Club had advice on planting direct from the plant, at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. Russell Harmon, vice president and general manager of LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery, took this unusual method of passing on tips on planting.

As a shrub, he pleaded for watering in moderation. "I like to drink as humans should, in moderation," he warned against burning leaves too near because "I can't stand the heat."

In a typical office set-up, he and his secretary, Mrs. Helen Calkins, presented "A Day In the Office," in which the incoming telephone calls, gleaned from actual experiences, were re-enacted. They had to decipher the botanical names of requests for "wiggly plants"; "bald teacup ivy," and many just as strange.

They referred one call to have "four ground" to the feed mill, only to discover that what the caller really wanted was earth to plant flowers in.

Mrs. O. J. Liljenstein presided at the brief business meeting. There was a varied display of autumn arrangements brought in by the members. Mrs. A. H. Mathieson had arranged an autumn bulletin board and discussed the planting of bulbs now for next spring's flowers. Mrs. Edward Knob, bird chairman, reminded the members to begin filling the bird feeders for winter arrivals in this section.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps was welcomed back after a year's absence in Massachusetts where she was called by illness in the family. Mrs. Roy Peterson was welcomed back to active membership. A former member, Mrs. Paul Simmons, now of Jefferson, Mass., was welcomed as a guest.

Mrs. Francis Grover, chairman of the hostess committee, had arranged the tea table with autumn flowers and antique candles. She and Mrs. Edward Sullivan were co-chairmen of the tea committee which included Mrs. Edward er as boards, passing a resolution and, with a majority vote of all boards concerned, ask approval of a jointure by the county board and by the State.

School Jointure Differs From Union Of Districts

The union proposal goes before the electorate — just as it will be voted on by residents of Stroud, Stroudsburg and Water Gap on Nov. 2.

If any one of the three districts fails to approve the union proposal, the entire idea is defeated — at least until another election when it may be placed on the ballots again.

A union school district has nothing whatever to do with the government of the township or borough involved. Just because Stroud and Stroudsburg enter a union school agreement, for example, does not mean that Stroud is or will ever become a part of Stroudsburg borough in fact or in theory.

The union school district is interested only in the operation, maintenance and provision of a combined school system for all the children in the one big school district resulting.

One of the biggest arguments in favor of a union school district is that the State legislature—not the administration—has made it more and more financially attractive.

Laws passed by the General Assembly dealing with education have advocated strongly the creation of centralized, geographically-advisable education centers.

To help facilitate this movement, the State legislature passed, in 1947, a bill requiring local county school boards to draw up a "county plan" for combining various township and borough school districts into larger educational units.

The first Monroe County plan was drawn up and submitted to the Department of Public Instruction shortly after the law was passed. The law also provided — in case no jointure, unions or mergers resulted from this plan — that the county plan should be either revised and re-submitted five years later or re-submitted in its original form.

Because the prevailing theory in education has been — and will probably continue to be — that centralized education is less expensive and more beneficial to the student, the State legislature has set up a series of financial inducements to encourage larger districts.

Foremost among these added financial advantages is the fact that State funds for aid in a building program will be readily available to a combined school district with larger borrowing power.

In common sense terms this means, basically, that a less powerful district steps toward an enlarged building program by joining forces with other districts in its own geographical area.

This is the current case in Stroud, Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap.

Just as most persons in all three areas will understand the obvious advantage from a State financial standpoint, it is equally obvious that one question immediately arises in all discussions as soon as the words "building program" are mentioned.

That question is: "That's fine — But where are you going to put the building?"

There is, at present, no definite answer to the question. The location of any added building would depend — according to school officials and board members — on the need for a building. The area which has the largest or fastest growing population would have first call for any building erected.

To determine where a building should be erected would take time — possibly a year or more. One of the first things needed would be a complete, thoroughly accurate census of all the districts showing population increases and a projection of the population for the next several years.

When these surveys were completed — and only then — could the union board attempt to decide on the exact location of any new building it might wish to erect.

The potential site of a proposed new building is not, therefore, an issue in the current deliberation over the union proposal.

The issue at stake in the current vote is this:

Can Stroud Township, Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap operate a better educational system as a union — with representatives of all three districts given a voice in deciding all issues in the system, including those governing the administration of the secondary school.

In forthcoming articles an attempt will be made to show some of the objections against and further arguments for a unified school district made up of the two boroughs and one township.

Officer Commends Cost Accountants

APPROXIMATELY 130 members of the Lehigh Valley Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants held a dinner meeting this week in Allentown. Speaker was Michael A. C. Hume, a CPA and a member of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., of New York City. Mr. Hume spoke on "Cutting the Cost of Finding Cost."

Rawn Brinkley, assistant secretary of the national organization, commended the Lehigh Valley Chapter on the consistently high showing made by the Chapter in activities on a national basis.

The next activity will be the annual discussion forum to be held Nov. 13 and 14 at Ye Old Saylor Inn in Saylorsburg. Francis T. Knous of Bethlehem will conduct the forum.

Among new members receiving buttons was Charles Lanterman, Line Material, East Stroudsburg.

Two Killed In Collision At Honesdale

HONESDALE, Oct. 21 (AP)—A New Jersey couple was killed today in a truck-auto collision on U. S. Route 6, three miles west of Honesdale.

State police identified the victims as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mailloux, of Rochelle Park, N. J. Police described them as "elderly."

The Mailloux car and a truck driven by Gerald A. Dutton of nearby Tyler Hill collided head-on while negotiating a curve. The truck overturned and rolled off the highway but Dutton escaped with a cut knee.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top... and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned... power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up... by power, if you like. There is a tachometer... and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

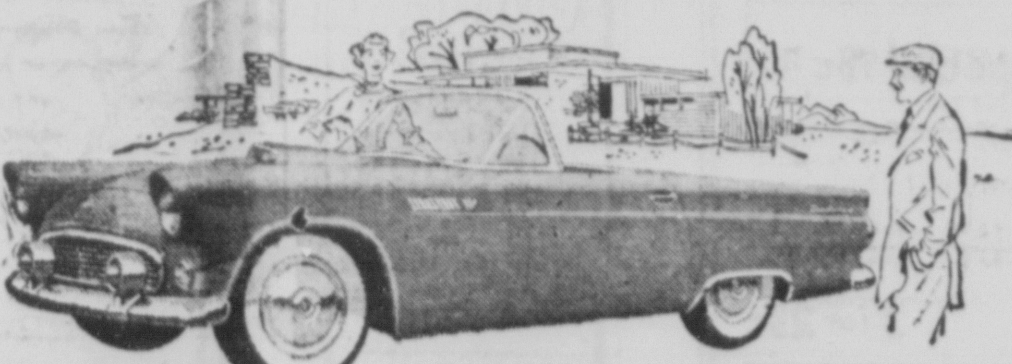

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response... fleet, liquid agility... backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4 barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering... the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

MAYBE YOUR HUSBAND HAS THE RIGHT IDEA!

If there's one thing that men believe in... it's finding the easy way to do the job.

Check it in your own home. If your lawn is of any size chances are your husband no longer pushes and puffs to do his mowing... he has a power mower. It's the easy way. And, take his morning shave... the old razor's gone. His electric shaver does the job faster and easier. It's the same in his workshop... electric power drills and saws have replaced old hand operated tools. Get the point? Your husband uses the things that have been made to make life more pleasant for him.

But let's talk about you. Particularly the way you dry your clothes on wash day. We hope you're not doing it the old-fashioned way. If you are, we know the trouble you're having. You struggle with clothes poles, pins and props... strain yourself lugging baskets of wash from the house to the backyard clothes line... worry about the weather... the time it takes! How do you stand it?

It might be a good idea to take a tip from your husband. You know... find the easy way to dry your clothes. And, an Electric Clothes Dryer is the answer.

We think you'll agree that just getting away from all the unpleasant duties of drying is a life-saver in itself. But, an Electric Clothes Dryer does even more to make your wash days a dream. Your clothes actually look better... last longer... need less ironing when they are dried in an Electric Clothes Dryer. And remember, drying day is any day you choose.

There's one other important thing to remember. Your appliance dealer has a Special Offer to make on an Electric Clothes Dryer right now... during DRYER BUYER DAYS! Stop in and see him... learn how you can really make life easy for yourself.

ESSTC Renews Football Rivalry With West Chester Tonight

Warriors Hope To End Long Victory Famine

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College, in the midst of one of its most successful football campaigns to date, clashes head-on with powerful West Chester tonight, on the latter's home gridiron.

The tussle, listed for Wayne Field, is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

Coach Gene Martin, long overdue for a win against West Chester, finished up pre-game practice chores with a light workout last night and were reported ready for battle.

In the backfield ESSTC will feature Warren Hoeffner at quarterback; Dick Merring, former East Stroudsburg High great, left half; Charley Shaw, right half, and Dennis Roth, place kicking specialist, fullback.

Don Corman, fleet running back and one of the main reserves, will see little if any duty in the ESSTC backfield because of a knee injury suffered in last Saturday's Mansfield encounter.

West Chester has lost to Delaware and Youngstown this season while scoring victories over East Carolina State, Drexel and Lock Haven. ESSTC on the other hand has won over Millersville, Ithaca and Mansfield, while bowing to Shippensburg by a 17-13 count.

Spirit and excitement have been at fever pitch on Normal Hill all this week, with posters depicting the entire school. The students held a pep rally and featured a parade through East Stroudsburg last night.

A crowd of more than 200 students plan to follow the Warriors to West Chester tonight.

Coach Glenn Killinger's Rams have five regulars on the injured list.

Four first string linemen and a starting back are on the West Chester casualty list and only three of them are likely to see even limited action. Halfback Walt Buechel and starting end, Ron Gatski, will probably not be in uniform, Coach Killinger said. Co-captain Dick Paciaroni and a pair of veteran guards, Jim Mears and Ken Ober, will be dressed but will appear only for spot plays.

Killinger will replace his crippled players largely with young talent. Sophomore Joe Motto will be paired with Junior Bill Crozier at the ends, while Sophomore Joe Chilbert and a pair of Freshmen, Bill Berardelli and Jack Brienza will alternate as guards. Eddie Morrell, a Freshman from Prospect Park who distinguished himself in his first starting appearance against Lock Haven last week will take over the halfback job of Buechel.

Polio Puts Halt To Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21 (AP)—A football player's illness, reportedly polio, has caused cancellation of a WPIAL game that had been slated for tomorrow night between Bellevue and Evans City.

The ill player, who was not named, is a member of the Bellevue squad. Other members of Bellevue's team are to receive anti-polio gamma globulin shots as soon as their parents give permission.

Grier T. Gilliland, faculty manager of the Bellevue team, said the ill player is in Municipal Hospital and is "doing as well as can be expected right now."

Newkirk Gains TKO Verdict

BOSTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gil Newkirk of Philadelphia, behind all the way on points, scored a sixth round technical knockout over Bob Woodall of Cincinnati tonight when he opened an old cut over Woodall's eye.

Newkirk, former sparring partner of heavyweight champion "Rocky" Marciano, weighed 207½, Woodall 215½.

Referee Mal Manning stopped the bout at the end of the fifth round.

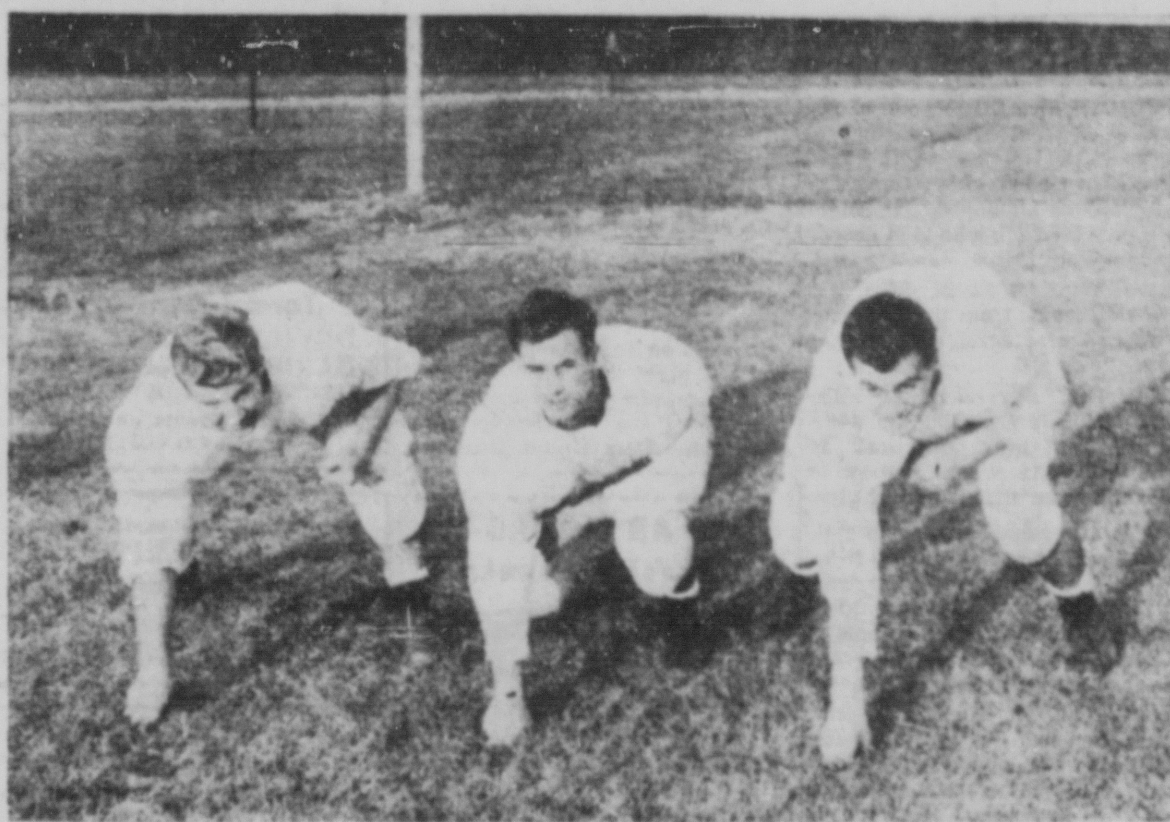

Wisconsin Back Sets Mark

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—The score was 13-6, Wisconsin over Purdue, when Purdue's Len Dawson faded back late in the game and let go a pass intended to tie up the football game.

Instead Wisconsin's Billy Lowe speared the ball on his own two-yard line and snake-kipped his way 98 yards to a touchdown.

This clinched the game for Wisconsin last Saturday at Madison, Wis., and at the same time won for young Lowe the honor of pulling off the longest individual play of the current season among major colleges.

The NCAA Athletic Bureau notes with some concern that there hasn't been a goal-to-goal record this year. No grid season since 1925 failed to produce at least one all-the-way thriller.

Lawyer Saves New Champ From Jail

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Johnny Saxton celebrated his newly won letter championship outside the barred windows of a jail today because his 15-day sentence as a traffic court "scofflaw" was suspended.

The suspended sentence was the result of an eloquent plea by Saxton's attorney, John J. Duff, who hinted his client's dull, though winning, performance last night at Philadelphia against Kid Gavilan was the result of worry about his pending jail term.

"Even the defendant's best friend could not say he fought his best fight," said the attorney. Brother, that was putting it mildly. The dull, 15-round clutching contest was aptly described as a "stinker" by Frank Wiener, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Although most of the 7,909 fans who paid $57,121 to see the bout appeared to agree with the unanimous verdict for the 24-year-old New York Negro, boxing writers at ringside disagreed. According to comment by television viewers, most of them thought both the fight and decision were plain "lousy."

"It was a real stinker but Gavilan won," was the comment heard most often from the TV customers. Many observed "Nobody won it—they should have thrown both of them out of the ring." You couldn't argue too seriously with either viewpoint.

In the hysterical hours after the fight, the 28-year-old ex-champ from Cuba was retiring and unretiring, completely disgusted by the decision of the three Philadelphia officials.

Mundito Medina, Gavilan's trainer, said in Philadelphia the Keed had cooled off and now expected to continue fighting because "We have an ironclad contract for a rematch in 90 days." Manager Angel Lopez said the same thing about a "private agreement" for a rematch.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club which co-promoted the bout with Herman Taylor, said the IBC had no contracts for a return bout and no negotiations were under way.

There was talk of a hearing before the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission last night, probably confused with a meeting of some of the National Boxing Assn. officials.

In any event, there was no hearing and Wiener said "As far as I'm concerned, the fight is over. Saxton won and he deserved to win. Gavilan did not fight like a champion."

Wiener didn't say whether he planned to take any action against Gavilan's handlers for their bitter post-fight comments.

In the meantime, promoter Norm Rothchild of Syracuse was ready to guarantee Saxton $40,000 to defend against Carmen Basilio in his club. Gavilan had received a $40,000 guarantee for giving Saxton his chance.

Saxton had been given a stay of execution of his jail term until after the fight after paying $500 in fines. He paid another $50 fine today on a speeding charge.

"Don't let it happen again," was the warning of Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh who suspended the original sentence.

Associated Press Grid Expert Likes Ohio State, UCLA, Rice

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—The customers always write when we're wrong.

"Dear sir," writes a Cincinnati reader. "I followed your selections last week and finished last in the office pool. The pool was won by the bartender around the corner who said he never reads your picks."

Oh, well, the bartender always wins. Last week we had a 32-16 mark for 567. Our season's total is 179 right, 61 wrong for .736.

A's Owners Still Wait For Approval

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21 (AP)—The nine man syndicate which has purchased the Philadelphia Athletics said tonight it can't understand what is holding up American League approval of the deal.

Arthur Rosenberg, spokesman for the local group, said after an all-day meeting of the new owners, that if "favorable or unfavorable news isn't received from Will Harridge by tomorrow, two men will be sent to Chicago to talk with the American League president."

Rosenberg emphasized that he did not want to antagonize Harridge or the other American League owners, but that he would like to know what is delaying the league approval.

"We have sent Harridge a list of the new owners with their financial and social background. Roy Mack has informed the league president that he and his brother, Earle, and father, Connie, have sold us the club. If there is any other information Harridge wants, we are not aware of what it is," Rosenberg said.

The syndicate spokesman explained that his group is at a disadvantage. "Under baseball law, we can't contact Harridge and demand approval. Only the selling stockholders can deal with the league office. We have to wait until we're approved or called in for consultation."

Rosenberg said that at today's meeting the final details of the agreement were completed and that the document is in the hands of the league for signing. They expect to have it signed, sealed and delivered tomorrow.

In Chicago earlier today, Harridge said that Roy Mack still had not provided him with the signed bill of particulars. The league president says this is necessary for league approval.

As for a threatened law suit by Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman whose efforts to buy the A's and move them to Kansas City failed, Rosenberg said his group had no comment. Apparently, the syndicate does not wish to get into a battle of words with Johnson that would embarrass the American League.

People here can't understand Harridge's delay in approving the deal. The American League president didn't have any signed, sealed and delivered agreement in Chicago two weeks ago when the American League approved the sale of the A's to Johnson and subsequent transfer to Kansas City. The member clubs were polled and approval granted without even a deal being made between Roy Mack and Johnson.

Johnson claimed that agreement was reached at the American League meeting to sell him the club. Roy Mack denied he had agreed to sell his stock to Johnson and said he merely agreed to go home and talk the matter over with his family.

In Chicago, Harridge said: "We are awaiting definite word from Roy Mack as to the signing of the contract consummating the deal and a request from him to approve the transfer of the stock and the new stockholders."

"Until this is done, there would be no purpose in calling a meeting of league members."

All efforts to reach Roy Mack this week have failed.

Bangor High Hopes To Turn Coplay Into Fifth Grid Victim

BANGOR—Bangor High School will be searching for its fifth victory of the current football campaign tonight when the Slaters play host to a winless Coplay High squad here at Memorial Park. The contest, to be held under the lights, will get under way at 8 p. m.

The Slaters, fresh from a thrilling 7-0 victory over Stroudsburg, are expected to return to their usual lineup for tonight's encounter. Coach Granville "Gran" Evans made several line switches just for last Saturday's battle with Stroudsburg, but now is expected to feature the same lineup that has carried the bulk of the lead thus far this season.

This means that Jerry Dalley and Ralph "Barney" Stenlake will return to their tackle posts and Dick Marinelli and Nick Martocci will be back in the guard slots. Marinelli is reportedly entirely recovered from a neck injury.

Lon Casciano will handle one end post, while Walter "Red" Heard and Art "Bucky" Parsons will divide the other wing position. Bill Godshalk will be at center.

Casciano and Jack Stenlake will be the defensive halfbacks, while Larry Raph and Dale Miller handle the backer-up chores.

The Bangor coaching staff is hopeful that it can use several other performers during the course of the contest.

Coplay, despite its winless record, is one of the better passing teams in the area. It throws the ball at any time, any angle and any distance.

Catawqua, one of the Lehigh Valley League powers, was hard pressed to score a 7-6 nod over Coplay in the opening game of the current campaign. Bangor defeated Catawqua, 13-7.

Bangor is scheduled to oppose a strong Nazareth contingent next Saturday, at Nazareth.

Unbeaten Strings May Be Snapped

WILKES-BARRE—After Saturday night's football game in Wilkes-Barre Memorial Stadium, Pennsylvania should have one less unbeaten college football team. The college classic brings together the Bloomsburg State Teachers College (3-0-0) and the Monarchs of King's College (2-0-1).

It will be the first game of the Huskies of Coach Jack Yoke away from the friendly confines of their Mt. Olympus campus field.

The presidents of the club have picked their men and let them run the team on the field," Brannick explains. "No front office interference, although of course a manager naturally is under the supervision of the president."

"There is an understanding between the front office and the field manager, who understands he is captain of the ship."

"Mr. Stenlake, (Horace Stenlake) current president of the club, is a mighty shrewd baseball man, and executive."

Phone 3093-J

MR. AND MRS. Horace Frederick and Mrs. Douglas, of Deal, Md., were guests of Mr. Frederick's mother, Mrs. Ann Frederick, and of his sister, Mrs. Charles Rapp from last Thursday until Monday of this week.

Mrs. George Kroupsky has been entertaining, over the weekend, a childhood school chum from Washington, D. C. Mrs. Kroupsky, who has been ill for many weeks was able to be downstairs Monday for her birthday.

Mrs. Inga Brown and Miss Nellie Burd were dinner guests Monday night of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gehl, of Cherry Creek Lodge, in honor of Miss Burd's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarkson started out Friday afternoon for a few days of vagabond traveling to whatever destination seemed attractive. The many warnings about hurricane Hazel gave them such uneasiness as to home folk, they turned back when just beyond Trextertown, Pa. They will make the vacation trip in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hauser took a picnic lunch and spent Monday at the Snyder'sville bungalow "Johnora" to celebrate Mrs. Hauser's birthday. At night they were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. LaBar.

Water Gap folk were without electric lights and power from Friday night about 8 o'clock until Sunday morning at 1 a.m. Some families did not get it back until afternoon. Many families took their meats and vegetables out of their freezers and canned them if they did not know when electric power would make them safe. Folks were inquiring how the Delaware River toll bridge workers managed at their toll booths. We have been informed that an emergency generator took care of the electric power there.

The young waitresses at Saturday night's Centennial banquet of Presbyterian folk, at Hotel Sharrill, were Camille Buzzard, Carol Snyder, Elizabeth Redrig, Marianne Drake, Sandra Carlton, Mary Ella Gray, Eleanor and Annette Kulp, Vera Storm and Ingrid Weckert. Women of the Auxiliary who gave up the fun of being guests, to keep things moving smoothly from kitchen to dining room, were Auxiliary president Mrs. George Hauser, Mrs. H. J. LaBar, dinner supervisor Miss Barbara Drake and Mrs. Clifford Hauser. They were assisted by Mrs. Freida Hall and Mrs. J. Dorzinsky.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brockman and Mrs. Charles Rapp spent Sunday at Quakertown as guests of Mrs. Rapp's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Waite, and their two sons.

Court Sets Hearing In Y Dispute

construction possible. The complaint says that many of these contributions "in substantial amounts" were pledged as installment payments to be made over the expected period of construction.

As a result of picketing, first by the plumbers union and now by the electrical union, plaintiffs say many of these pledges have been withheld—and that in some cases, plaintiffs have threatened to stop payments altogether until work is resumed on the building.

The complaint holds that the picketing is for the purpose of "injuring, delaying and preventing" the Y from completing its building. The union intends by this to cause the Y to cancel its contracts with Kime and Cleveland, and award them to union contractors, plaintiffs say.

The document winds up by asking the court to restrain the union from:

One—interfering with plaintiffs in the construction of the building.

Two—picketing in an attempt to coerce Kime into committing an unfair labor practice or to prevent Kime or others from freely entering or leaving the Y premises.

Three—conspiring or arranging with other people or groups to interfere with or hinder any workmen at the job from doing their work, by picketing.

Four—inducing others to fail to continue and complete their work at the Y.

Five—Unlawfully inducing or causing the Y to breach its contracts with Kime and Cleveland.

Six—Unlawfully thwarting or defeating the injunction against picketing issued in the Cleveland case.

Maxwell H. Cohen of Stroudsburg represents the electrical union, but does not at present represent Lyons or Pipher, he said last night.

DR. LESTER BECK, psychology professor and lecturer-entertainer, opens Stroudsburg Dutch Treat Club's season tonight at 6:30 at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

C.D. Changes Meeting Time

J. FIELDING Vollers, director of Civil Defense for East Stroudsburg, has announced an important meeting of all personnel for tonight at 7 at the Day St. firemen's building.

Assignments will be issued for the coming state Civil Defense test, which will take place at an unannounced time next week. Important defense measures will be explained. Motion pictures will be shown.

Any citizen interested in having a part in Civil Defense work is invited to attend. Applications for membership will be taken.

This meeting was previously announced for 8 p.m. but has been changed to 7 p.m., so another meeting can be held in the same building.
